

Chinese Birth Chart

Traditional Chinese gender calendar, mother's age at conception by month of conception

How to use: find the mother's age at conception down the left side, then follow across to the month of conception. Where they meet is the traditional prediction.

This chart follows a Chinese folk tradition, not a medical or scientific method. A 2010 study published in Paediatric and Perinatal Epidemiology (Villamor et al.) examined nearly 2.84 million singleton births in Sweden and found the method's predictions agree with actual outcomes no more often than chance would.
